OVERVIEW

Mac Brockmyre is a litigator who handles product, general and commercial liability as well as asbestos matters. His experience also includes toxic tort litigation research and memoranda. The foundation of Mac's practice is crafting practical and efficient solutions through detailed issue analysis and research. He uses his background in the insurance industry to inform his legal practice, allowing him to provide creative legal strategies that efficiently resolve disputes for clients.

Before joining the firm, Mac was a law clerk with a regional firm focused on toxic tort liability, product liability, insurance matters and complex civil and business litigation. In his role, Mac analyzed key legal issues with the goal of furthering client needs. Mac was also a clerk for the Chief Justice of the Massachusetts District courts, analyzing legal issues relating to judicial policies and procedures.

Prior to becoming a lawyer, Mac worked in the insurance industry as a claims representative. His work included handling workers' compensation, product, cyber, auto and general liability claims for a hospital system and a major municipality. His experience in the insurance industry also includes performing investigations, effectuating settlements and assisting defense counsel in litigation matters.
